

Prof. Osamu Kusakabe

Prof. Osamu Kusakabe would be honoured in a humble manner in 2018-2019 by having a Special Issue of our SEAGS-AGSSEA Journal, currently at Ibaraki National College of Technology and former Professor, Director, Tokyo Institute of Technology Graduate School of Science and Engineering, Department of Civil Engineering, Graduate School of Science and Engineering Civil Engineering.

Osamu is an innovative and enterprising person with a Ph D from Cambridge was a Fellow at Churchill College in Cambridge where I spent 1965-1968. He received the Schofield Award in 2003 among other prestigious honours and awards. In 1999 he was recognised for his distinguished service to the Japanese Geotechnical Society. Osamu also served as a Board Member of ISSMGE.

It is a great honour to have a Journal Issue under his name. Osamu visited AIT many times and also took many AIT Alumni to do Doctoral Studies in Japan.